From advertisements and editorial puffs in the Journal and Democrat It appears "this distinguished gentleman" has turued up, "to practice law hereafter" In the Crescent City, under the flag of "the Yankee Government," to which, last January, as Kentucky's "Representative" at Richmond, he swore repeatedly he "would never yield," He has taken the amnesty oath and regularly applied for the pardon of that Government, rather than "compromise" with or "yield one jot" to which he then vowed he "would see every city in this country in smouldering rulns, and every house in ashes," "would live on the beechnuts in the woods, and the fish of our waters." "As for himself, he was just beginning to get mad. To savethe independence of these States, we must rise to the height of this occasion, and set aside all constitutional delicery. From advertisements and editorial puffs of these States, we must rise to the height of this occasion, and set aside all constitutional delicacy. He would selze all the cotton, tobacco and gold in the Confederacy, pay for the cotton and tobacco in Confederate notes, and make these uotes a universal legal tender. We must prepare for the spring campaign. He would take the men of the country by the nape of the neck and put them into the army," &c., &c.

Well, that desperate political bankrupt

Well, that desperate political bankrupt and big old secession gamester has cooled and come down somewhat. "Setting aside all constitutional delicacy," he turns up at last a loyal man of the conservative stripe, takes the Yankee oath and is a supplicant for Yankee pardon to save his own areains. for Yankee pardon to save his own precious neck, and advertises from New Orleans to Louisville, if not all over this Yankee country, for a liberal share of Yankee green-backs to feed his ponderous self on some-thing more substantial than Confederate fish and beech-nuts.

"No testlmony is needed as to his endnent ability," or eminent unreli-ability.

But, as a public character, he may have really reformed. He may feel himself so

Logan as Minister to Mexico. The first step in the direction of mainalning the Mouroe doctrine has been We rejoice, and every patriotic American will rejoice, that the President has appoint ed Major General John A. Logau to be Minister of the United States to the repubninster of the Chief States to the repub-lic of Mexico. Aside from the personal fit-ness of the appointment, the fact that such an appointment has been made is of the highest significance. It is a plain intima-tion of the course which this Government intends to pursue relative to the pretensions of the Austrian surreer in Mexico, and his of the Austrian usurper in Mexico, and his backer in Paris. It is a distinct and posi-tive answer to all the idle rumors, whether originating in Europe or in this country, that the Washington administration has that the Washington administration has had thoughts of recognizing the pretended Government of Maximulan.

It is a 1 otification to the imperial parvenu of the Tuillerilleries that, so far from having any such idea, this Government, on the contrary, distinctly recognizes the republican government represented by Benito Juarez as still existing in Mexico, and as the only rightful government that does ex-It is an indirect intimation to the Archduke of Austria that his recent bar-barous and bloody pronunciamento, order-ing the immediate butchery of every re-publican soldier who may be taken, has not the color of justification which he as-

It can not, on the other hand, be construed as any infraction of the strictest neutrality. The government of fuarez still exists, and is still located upon Mexican territory, the proclamation of the Austrian That Gen. Legan will find that govern-ment, and that he will not immediately run away from it, as did his predecessor, those who know him have not the slightest reason to doubt. His presence will be an assurance that the powerful republic of the United States has not deserted her less powerful sister in the hour of troublé, and does not intend to desert her.

It is doubted it a better selection for the post of Minister in the Republic of Mexico at the present time could have been made among the distinguished men in this country. A statesman of no mean capacity, Gen. Logan has achieved a reputation in the minitary service of his country whose brillia sey is surpassed by that of few other men. His patriotism and loyalty to the principles of republican liberty are of the highest order. His attachment to the Monroe doctrine was born and bred in his very horse. His attachment to Minister

Holden; yet we cannot but regard his defeat as an evidence that the State is not yet ripe for entering the councils of the not yet ripe for entering the charty loynot yet ripe for entering the councils of the Union on a footing of genuine, hearty loyalty. We trust to Time, with his healing influences, to mold them silently, gradually, into a sweeter and better spirit. We ought not, perhaps, to have expected that loyalty would spring up and flourish among them any more rapidly than it has doue.

The Raleigh Progress of the 17th says: "The following gentlemen are certainly elected to Congress: C. C. Clark, IId Dis-trict; T. C. Fuller, IIId; Josiah Turner, IVth; Bedford Brown, Vth; S. II. Walkup, Vtth. This leaves the 1st and VIIth to hear from; it is believed that Dr. Speed is elected in the 1st, but we have no returns from the VIIth. None of the geutlemen known to be elected will be able to take the test oath, nor do we suppose that the State will send a single mun to either branch of Congress that can. We could have wished that it was different, and it might have been, but the copperheads and secessionists are per-verse and self-willed."—Tribune.

The California Chinese. There are no fewer than seventy-five thousand Chinamen in California and the territories of the coast, and number one-eighth to one-sixth of the entire population. None come really to stay; they do not identify themselves with the country, but to get work to make money, and to go back. work, to make money, and to go back. They never, or rarely, bring their wives. There is hardly anything that they will not turn their hands to, the work of women as well as men. They do the washing for the whole population, and sprinkling the clothes, as they iron them, by squirting water over them in a fine spray from their mouths.

One element of their usefulness as cooks, is their genius for imitation; show them once how to do a thing, and their educatiou is perfect—no repetition of the lesson is needed. But they seem to be more in use as house servants in the country than in the city; they do not share the passion of the Irish girls for herding together, and seem to be content to be alone in a house, in a neighborhood, or a town. Many are vegetable gardeners, too, and gather in three, first or first order. four, or five crops a year. Their garden patches, in the neighborhood of cities and villages, are always distinguishable from the rougher and more careless cultured grounds of their Saxon rivals,

Chinese labor, and seven thousand Chinamen are now rapidly grading the track
through the rocks and sands of the Sierra Nevadas. They can, by their stead indus-try, do uearly as much in a day, even in this rough labor, as the average of white there is hardly any branch in which, uuder proper tuition, they do not or cannot succeed most admirably. The greatest success of the woolen manufactures is due to the admirable adaptation and comparative cheapness of Chinese labor for the details. They are quick to learn, quiet, cleanly and faithful, and have no "off days," no sprees to get over. As factory operatives they receive twenty and twenty-five dollars a month, and board themselves, though quarters are provided for them on the mill grounds. Fish, vegetables, rice and pork are the main food, which is prepared and eaten with such economy, that they live for eaten with such economy that they live for about one-third what white laborers can. Worse crimes even are found saulted and shot down, or stabbed by bad men, as sportsmen surprise and shoot their game in the woods. Nobody was so miserable that he did not despise the Chinaman and could uot outrage him. Itoss Browne gives an illustration of the status of poor "John" that is to the point. A vagabond Indian comes upon a solitary Chinaman working over a descreted guich of gold marketing of the begitniate government of that country will at leas unanimously agree in their admiration of the noble and patriotic course bond Indian comes upon a solitary Chinaman working over a deserted gulch of gold. We published yesterday a news paragraph stating that Mrs. Lincoln had ordered in Zwickan, Germany, a monument for the grave of her husband, our late lamented President. The paragraph, according to our recollection, first appeared in the Londation for the statement. Mrs. Lincoln has ordered no monument for the grave of her husband, nor does she intend to do so. She has left that work entirely in the hands of the Lincoln Monument Association at integrating and two of them won't do as much work as one slave—they won't work—we can raise no cotton by free labor! Official returns from 37 counties show an aggregate majority of 6,165 for Jonathan Worth over W. W. Holden as Governor of North Carolina.

The Dally Sentinel (Raleigh) of the 16th inst. has a three-column leader aiming to prove that the preference of Worth to Holden was not impelled by disloyalty to the Union nor by hostility to the Federal Administration. We are asked to print this long argument; but the object of such printing is better subserved by this brief editorial.

No subject comes home closer to our hearts and houses than that of juvenile crime. The papers every week contain reports of young offenders, and the rapid increase in this direction is appalling. We rejoice, therefore, that the Boston Social Science Association has been engaged in discussing this question. The first meeting of the Association since its formal organization was held on Thursday evening of last week, at Chickering's Hall, on Washington street. Rev. E. E. Hale was chosen Treasurer pro tem. of the Associa-Washington street. Rev. E. E. Hale was chosen Treasurer pro tem. of the Assoclation. George B. Emerson, LL. D., was called to the Chair, and Rev. Frederick elected Secretary. Addresses were made by Rev. Dr. Blagden, Rev. Dr. J. F. Clarke, Rev. Dr. A. A. Miner, Rev. Mr. Ames, of Lancaster, and Judge Wright, of the police court. The latter dwelt chiefly upon the crimes committed by juveniles in the city, and the manner in which they are punished. He attributed the principal causes to the lack of paternal care, the want of even the rudiments of a home, and, too often, the rudiments of a home, and, too often, the intoxication of the parents. Less than three and a half per cent, of juvenile criminals, he said, are acquainted with the Bible; and in view of this he would urge that iustead of imprisoning the youth for mis-demeanors, as is now the custom, the State supposed that there are between 5000 and 6000 children in this city who are treading in the paths of crime. In Boston there were 35,000 children under the ages of 15 who are supposed to attend school. Of this number 4000 do not attend school at all.

number 4000 do not attend school at all. He narrated several interesting incidents that came under his knowledge, of parents who regularly educated their children to steal, those who sent their children out to beg, and of those boys and girls who sought refuge at night in doorways, stables, &c, rather than to stay at home with a druuken father and unother.

The one great, prolific cause of this, as well us of all our woes can be traced to rum. This is the monster which strikes down both young and old, scattering the seeds of rulu and agony all around.

Attempted Murder of a Superintendent of Freedmen--The Assassin Killed ou the The Savannah (Ga.) Republican, of No vember 11, says: "By the arrival of the steamer St. Helena yesterday afternoon from St. Simon's Island, we learn that in the latter part of last month, one Sam Whaley, a freedman, attempted the life of Rev. George H. Laton, Superintendent of the freedmen on that

"The circumstances of the affair, as far as we have been able to learn them, are as follows: It appears that the uegro, Whaley, and another one named Hope McIntosh, residents on St. Simon's Island, had refused to perform their shares of the work on a public road which is being built across the island, the labor of one-half day in a month being required of each of the freedmen. Mr. Eaton, being informed of their rebellious conduct, proceeded to the settlement where the two malcontents resided, to exercise his authority as superintendent, in endeavoring induce them to go to work.

"Upon Mr. Eaton's addressing Whaley
the desperate man levelled his gun at the superintendent, and fired, but the piece was struck to one side by a timely blow from a bystander, a colored man, and the bullet passed by Mr. Eaton without harming him.

o'Several freedmen, who had arrived at the scene of the difficulty, immediately fired upon Whaley, killing him instantly. Whaley's reputation throughout the settlement was that of a bad and dangerous character. He had previously levelled his gnn upon Morris McDonald, (freedman), a sheriff on the island, who had interposed between Whaley and the superintendent, and who finally saved Mr. Eston's life. much, say thirty dollars a month against fifty dollars. Juarez.

President Juarez is about to be succeeded President Juarez is about to be succeeded by General Ortega as chief magistrate of the Mexican republic, under circumstances which, notwithstanding all their great dif-ficulty, are far from extuinguishing the hopes of the friends of republican lustitu-tions and the enemies of monarchial eu-croachment on the American continent. The heavidering multiplicity of the conthey have no ambition to become voters.

Terrible are some of the cases of robberies and wanton maiming and murder reported from the mining districts. Had "John" a good claim, original or improved, he was ordered to "move on"—it belonged to somebody else. Had he hearded a nile, he was ordered to "move on"—it belonged to somebody else. Had he hoarded a pile, he was ordered to disgorge, and if he resisted, he was killed. Worse crimes even are found against them; they have been wantonly as-saulted and shot down, or stabbed by bad pursued by the outgoing president. His de-votion to the republic has as little been imprired by his sudden accession to su-preme power after withdrawal of the late Presid at Comonfort, as by the equally sudden calamities that made him a fugitive in his own territory, and caused him to be huuted by the imperialist, like a wild beast from one stronghold to another, until at last found a retreat at El Paso.

The Naked Truth.

The Florida Times, issued at Jackson-ville, with reference to the conflict of assertions respecting free labor, lets the following:

We daily come in contact with representatives of the two classes and it is instructive to listen to their expressions and coutrast their experience. One comes in from driving his 'niggers,' and with despairing, laggard, vexed countenance, declares 'the d-d niggers won't work, and there is no use in trying them—I pay fifteen dollars per month, and rations more than they can consume, and two of them won't do as much work as one slave—they won't work—we ever cherish the memory of his heroic bearing at this period of unparalleled calanity for his country.

A Union Man-Henry G Cole is a canidate for Congress in the Seventh Congressional District, Georgia. He has always been an uncompromising Union man, and his present antgonist is a rebel General Mr. C. has addressed the people, and in the add-ess makes the following point: "It is told abroad that I am for negro suffrage; this is not true. If I had the power of saying who should and who should not vote, I would exclude the negro; not because of his black face, but because of his weak brain, I would exclude the traitor to his country; not because of his weak brain, but because of his black heart." He concludes: "I have kept a faithful record of events for the last two years and I could a tale unfold that has left that work entirely in the hands of the Lincoln Monument Association at Springfield.

Mrs. Lincoln is residing at the Clifton House in this city. Since the decease of her husband she has made her permanent abode the shands he has made her permanent abode they receiving one-third of the contract to cultivate the farm upon shares—they receiving one-third of the clifton to tremble as did Denmark's Kiug at Hamlet's ghost. LOUISVILLE: THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1865.

News of the Day.

General Roussean has resigned his con mission as Major General.

The Legislature of Alabama met Montgomery on Monday. General Sickles has been assigned to the command of South Carolina, in place of Gen. Gillmore, relieved.

The Newark Advertiser mentions Hon P. T. Frellinghuysen, of that city, Mr. A. G. Catteli, of Camden, and ex-Seuator Ten Eyek as probable candidates for the vacant Senatorship, should Mr. John P. Stockton, who received only a minority of all the voles cast, be thrown out.

Governor Humphreys, of Mississippi, telegraphed to the President, on the 18th, that some negro soldiers attacked and took bat some negro soldiers attacked and took passession of a passenger train at Lauder-dile Springs, in that State. The Governor asked that the negro troops be withdrawn from the State. The President replied that, as soon as the peace of the State could be maintained without them, they would be maintained.

Colonel O'Mahoney, not satisfied with an rticle which recently appeared in the New York Times in relation to the Fenians, in-Tork Times in relation to the Fenians, in-imated to Mr. Raymond that a retraction was necessary, or the satisfaction due a gentleman would be expected. Mr. R. "couldn't see it," and declined to comply, Colonel O'Mahoney has published him as "not possessed of the courage of a man or the instincts of a gentleman."

Thomas D'Arcy M'Gee, in a recent speech at Montreal, denounces the leaders of the Fenian movement as interested demagogues, holds up to derision the so-called Christopher and Contracts of the with the Feniau Congress, and contrasts it with the Congress which set at Pi iladelphia nearly a century ago. He ridicules the idea that the number of the brotherhood in Canada is at all formidable, but appeals to all Brit-ish Americans to complete as soon as possi-ble the union of the several provinces as the best method of averting possible dan-

The Columbus (Ga.) Sun indulges in the following: "Preparations have now been completed to have a chain-gang of the idle negroes found in Columbus. All colored people, who have no visible means of support, are to have a ball and chain attached to them, and sent to work at leveling the fortifications around the city, the city to feed them the while. It is the determina-tion of both the civil and the military authorities that no idlers, who can only exist by pilfering and robbery, will be allowed to remain in the city, unless they can be forced to earn their bread. Some eight are to be put to work this morning."

The Toronto Leader of November 15th says: We recede nothing from the position we have taken. We know that the measures of precaution which the Government have adopted are the natural and only pro-per result of important information in their possession. If we advise the whole community to give the Government an active munity to give the Government an active support in the course they have seen fit to take, and pay no heed to those false advisers who cry "peace, peace," when there is really some danger to be apprehended, we are quite indifferent as to what sneering sympathizers with annexation—let it take the shape of Fenlanism or a general begraising of oversthing A merican—may say. So long of everything American—may say. So long as the Government is alive to the exigencies of the situation, and the military are thor-oughly on the alert, we can afford to despise the false counsels of persons whose business it would seem to be to deceive.

A council of the Protestant Episcopal at Augusta, Ga., on the 8th instant. Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Mississippi were represented by cleri-cal and lay delegates, and all the Bishops were present except Davis, of South Carolina, absent on account of sickness. Resolutions were adopted that any Diocese might withdraw, "in perfect consistence with good faith," from union with the council; and that the word "Union" be substituted for "Confederate" in the standards of the Church. The name of the Church was changed to the "Protestant Episcopal Church of the Associated Diocese of the United States." Richmond was appointed as the place of holding the next General Council, in November, 1868. Virginia and South Carolina were unanimous in the expension of their determination to stand knowledge. pression of their determination to stand by their present organization. There is some doubt about the positions of Georgia and

MR. SEWARD RINGS HIS LITTLE

Mr. Secretary of State Seward has, it seems, issued an order to his usher not to admit editors, reporters, and newspaper correspondents to the State Department. We cannot but regard this as an insult to the newspaper fraternity. If Mr. Seward was a little more particular to exclude from his department all the rebel sympathisers employed there he would stand a better chance to have his State papers properly sympathisers, Mr. Seward, and then "ring into any of the public buildings of the Governmeut. We have every reason to believe that the veteran Thurlow Weed is excepted from the operations of this absurd rule.

Change of Tone.

The Journal, since the Republican victories, has rather changed its tone. Before, it plainly squinted and leaned toward the "principles" and success of the Demogratic cratic party, with all their "radicals" thrown in. Now, it denounces "the Northern Democratic radicals. reactionists and demagogues," and warns the Democratic party to cast them, overloand for its control of the cont party lo cast them overboard for its own salvation. And the Journal now repeated-ly gives the South to understand she need not and should not expect representation in Congress until after "the election of eligible men to Congress and old-time Union men to office, the adoption of the amendment, the repudiation of the rebel debt, and the unqualified support of the Administration."

Robbery.-About 8 o'clock on Saturday ROBBERY.—About 8 o'clock on Saturday, night last, at a house in "South Danville," Thomas Hughes was robbed by two men, named Squire Street and George Gooch. The sum of money supposed to have been obtained was $110. Street was arrested yesterday by the civil authorities, and is now in confinement in this place. Gooch has not yet been found. The beet information we can obtain in regard to this official in not yet been found. The best information we can obtain in regard to this affair, is, that Hughes stopped at a grocery near the place where he was robbed, and bought a glass of ale. Street and Gooch being present, saw that he had a good sum of money, and foliowed him to a house where he stopped to light his pipe, and told him they "must have his money." Hughes refused, and attempted to mount his horse to ride off, when they seized him, threw him down and took his money from him by force.—Central Kentucky Gazette.

WADE HAMPTON, in the course of an address which he has issued to his friends In South Carolina, counsels the Southern people, "as sensible men," to endeavor to "construct at least a raft from the wreck of the Southern Confederacy." To most people it will appear that if the Southerners are sensible men they will seek elsewhere for the materials of their raft than among the debris of the wrecked Confederacy. There is not a plank left of that rotten concern which will suctain even its own weight. It which will sustain even its own weight. It is the endeavor to construct a raft of such bad materials that prevents them, if anything can, from speedily reaching the dry land of a completely restored Union.

negro testimony in the courts of that State in cases where a colored man is a party in the action, nuch disappointed at the results of the recent elections in the North. They were led to believe, by what Democratic papers in the North said of the chance of success of their party, that the results at least in several of the States would be very different from what they turned out to be. In thus placing confidence in the professions of Democratic papers, instead of considering the plain probabilities, they have been deceived and disappointed. To suppose that the people of any Northern State were prepared to entrust the affairs of their government in the hands of that party, with its record of the past five years so fresh in their minds, was, to say the least, not reasonable. The people of the North desire o see the work of restoring the seceded States to all their rights in the Union accomplished as soon as deemed compatible with the interests of the country, but it is dot likely they would entrust this work to a party that opposed the war for the to a party that opposed the war for the beam of the property holders in Washington and favored a surrender to the research of the city of Washington in the light of a Board of Commissioners, to be appointed by the President. It is thought the will settle the suffrage question, and secure a far more economical administration of purposed the war for the Union and favored a surrender to the rebellion, and that could not and would not refuse to surrender up everything now that has been gained by the war. There are certain things which are regarded as having the proposed the war for the Union and favored a surrender to the rebellion, and that could not and would not refuse to surrender up everything now that the proposed the war for the Union and favored a surrender to the rebellion, and that could not and would not refuse to surrender up everything now that the proposed the war for the Union and favored a surrender to the rebellion, and that could not and would not refuse to surrender up everything now that the president is the proposed the war for the Union and favored a surrender to the rebellion, and that could not and would not refuse to surrender up everything now that has been gained by the war. There are certain things which are regarded as having the president is the president of the president of the president is the president of the president of the president is the president of the presid been settled by the war. In reconstructing their State governments, the people of the lately rebellious States are expected and required to fully recognize these results of the war. A cheerfull readiness to meet the requirements of the Government and the people in this respect, is the surest and quickest way to a complete restoration to their places in the Union, The success, through dissension in the Union ranks, of the old allies of the South, in several of the Northern States at the late electious, would doubtless have held out the hope to the South that that party would soon come into power, from which they could get whatever terms they wanted, and the effect would have been to retard the work of reconstruction, and, perhaps, involve the whole country in fresh difficulties. The people of the country make no unreasonable exactions from the reconstructing States; they simply require from them what the future peace and harmony of the country demand.

Southern papers should understand that bi ter denunciations of the dominant party at the North will not help on the work of reconstruction. That party which triumphed so signally in all the recent elections is the only one which really and earnestly sustains the administration of President Johnson. If the Southern leaders were sincerely desirous of an early restoration of their States to their places in the Union upon the basis of the new order of things resulting from the war, they made a great mistake in allying themselves with that party in the North which rendered itself so odious to the loyal people of the country by its opposition to the war to maiutain and preserve the Government. The organs of this party have already done immense mischief; first, by promulgating he false idea that there was considerable party at the North interested in keeping the Southern States in the position in which the rebellion placed them; and, secondly, by pretending that it possessed any share of did a great deal of tollsome mind work. the confidence of the President, whom they have most outrageously abused and maligned for the past four years on account of his devotion to the Union. The Democratic party, actuated by the same principles and throw every obstacle in the way of its prosin early restoration of the Union upon basis that will give assurance of its permanancy and future peace. It is impotent now, except for evil and mischief, and we trust the wiser portion of the people of the South will soon begin to see and recognize this fact.

The work of restoring the lately rebellious States to their places in the Union, and bringing them into full relations with the General Government again, lies mainly with the people of those States. A full, unconditional compliance, which has not been done yet by any of the reconstructing States. will be required before they resume their position in the Union. If the Southern press approve the President's plan of restoration, as they profess to, they should insist upon their States carrying out fully their part of the plan; and having performed their part it would be time then, if there were any grounds for it, to protest against new conditions being imposed upon them and against being longer excluded.

REPUDIATION IN GEORGIA. The manner in which the Georgia Convention repudiated the rebel debt is not calculated to inspire confidence that the Convention did it in good faith, intending given to the public. "Ring out" your rebel to abide by it, and that its action shall be final and binding for all time to come. It in" the loyal visitor who has a right to go was carried by eighteen votes less than an actual majority of that body, some thirty members having, we may presume, dodged the question, and under the pressure of several dispatches from the President recommending repudiation. There were 117 votes cast against, and 133 for it. The following from the Augusta Constitutionalist, a paper which strongly opposed repudiation of the rebel debt, is not without its significance just iu this connection. Referring to the ordinance repudiating the rebel debt, it > says:

> It will be seen that by the second section all debts contracted by the State during the late civil war are to be regarded as, prima facic, incurred for carying on the same, but this presumption may be overcome by proof that any particular sum of money loaned was not intended for or devoted to such purposes—the Legislature to be the judge thereof, with power to appropriate for repayment of the same. Having already spoken somewhat at length on this matter, we have only further to say that the holders ve have only further to say that the holders of these State obligations had better hold on to them. Efforts may possibly be made by speculators to buy then up, but they are worth as much to the present holders as they can be to any body. If for nothing else, they will do for souvenirs.

The meaning of this is that, by some nocus-pocus, these State obligations, incurred to sustain the rebellion against the Government, will yet be paid.

The quality of the Hon. Charles J. Jenkins, ex-rebel, and lately elected Governor of Georgia, may be understood from the following act of the recent constitutional convention of that State.—Chicago Repub

> The comedy of "The Dubutante" was played lately at Petersburg. One of the incidents of the play consists in the leading actor's leaping off the stage and wresting the violin from the leader of the orchestrasometimes one of the other instruments is seized instead. The stupid Petersburgians did not understand the joke, but thought there was a fight going on among the performers; a portion of the audience, including ali the ladies, ran out of the theater; and the tumuit became so great that it was actually necessary for the manager to explain that the unusual incident was part of the play.

It having been positively stated that the Baltimore and Ohio road does not Intend to go direct to Washington or Georgetown, in laying the branch road from the Point of Rocks, but to make a connection with the Washington branch, either at Bladensburg or Laurel, the people of that city have taken alarm, and the press is exhorting the company to change its decision. Attack of the Liberal Forces Upon Matamoras -- Their Repulse. NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The Matamoras Ranchero of the 25th uit., the Imperial or-gan, gives the following particulars of the attack by the Liberals upon that place, and their repulse: About five o'clock this morning the outlaws made an attack upon the fortificatious surrounding this city. They appeared at different points, in smail force, leaving it a matter of doubt whether an attack or a feint was intended. At length a tack or a feint was intended. At length a charging party was formed, to attack in earnest the artiliery picket at the southeast point of the city. The assaulting party made up ln desperation what they lacked in numbers, and for a tlme the artillery picket was forced back, leaving their guns behind. At this juncture, the gunboat Paisana, commanded by Anselmo and G. Rubio, steamed down the river to the assaulted point, and, by a well-directed fire sauited point, and, by a well-directed fire, put the outlaws to flight, when the artillery picket retook their guns and opened on the fleeing outlaws. At the same time the fort, commanded by Senor Don Miguel Pena, opened a terrific fire upon the outlaws, and material'y aided the gunboat in clearing the chapparal of the last of the scamps.

Gen. Mejia learning a heavy assault was making ou one of the forts put himself at the head of 500 cavalry and galloped the head of 500 cavalry and galloped down to the assaulted point, arriving just in time to see the fleeling outlaws disappear in the chapparal. While the charge was being made at the lower end of the line a furious artillery and musketry fire was being kept up on the upper forts, but without effecting anything. Fully one thousand men were led against these forts. The forts maintained a heavy tire upon the outlaws. unaintained a heavy tire upon the outlaws and kept them at a respectful distance. An Imperial cavairy force went up to see how things were going on where so much suroke was rising; upon steing the situation of af-fairs, with Mejia at their head, they dashed upon and put the rascals to flight, taking from them one gun. The firlng continued for a couple of hours, when it died out. The Imperial troops maintained their reputation admirably. The citizens responded polly and were on hand for fight. Altogether there were fifty-eight prisouers taken and a large number of outlaws were killed and wounded. The Imperial loss was several wounded and a dozen killed. A considerable quantity of amuunition was abandoned by the outlaws and has been captured.

The captain of the ganboat Antonio, just arrived from below, reports the outlaws swimming the river in great numbers and in the ulmost confusion.

Gen. Espilosa, second in command of the BALTIMORE, November 22.—In the United States Circuit Court for Maryland this morning, Chief Justice Chase presiding, an Important decision was given in the case of James Jackson, a subject of Great Britain, against the Northern Central Railroad Company. The action was to recover the amount of $2650 on compons held by him of the bonds of the Company. The Company claimed the right to retain 3 per cent. of the interest on the coupons to pay the Income tax with, and, also, three per cent, on the compons under the law of Maryland. The Court decided that the Company must pay the tax and that the coupous must be paid without deducting tax.

Something More about the St. John Disaster. NEW YORK, Nov. 22.-Mr. Norman Willard, of this city, has been experimenting on the boilers of the St. John, and in a letter to the counsel, states as his theory that the explosion was caused by the unequal ex-pansion of the boiler plates between the parts above and below the surface of the water at the time of the explosion, which surface might be at the ordinary water liue, or lower when there was a deticiency of water, or higher when the water was foaming. This has been triumphantly confirmed, and the boilers of the St. John should be immediately supplied with a self-acting device.

Spires of cermany, In the Middle Ages no people seem to have so far mastered the art of construction as the Germans; although their French neighbors far exceiled them in the artistic design and graceful detail, yet to the Ger-mans must certainly be allowed the palm for engineering skill. The bridge over Moldau at Praguo is perhaps one of the greatest engineering undertakings of the greatest engineering undertakings of the Middle Ages. It is one thousand five hundred feet long, and has resisted the shocks of iceburgs with which the river is often choked, for five hundred winters. The old bridges of Wurzbnrg and Frankfort are searcely less remarkable. The principal objects, however, on which the Germans seem to have delighted to bestow their skill are the towers and spires of churches and town halls. Vienna, Strasburg, Ulm, Landshut, Freiburg and Tahn are perhaps the most important. There are, however, many less known spires that are quite as beautiful, and exhibit quite as great con-

The towns of Praguo and Wurzburg, viewed from a distance, give one the idea of a forest of spires; and at Wurzburg, in par-ticular, they are glouped together in such a remarkably picturesque manner that one can scarcely believe that the whole town was not originally planned and built only to be painted. Lubeck, Nnremburg, Augsburg, Landshut, and Erfurth abound in spires; and, as some of these towns are situated in a very hilly country, they quite destroy the old theory that spires were only built in flat places.

Mr. Punch, as a set-off against the list of contributors to the rebei loan, publishes a list of those to the Fenian loan, the brothers Davenport being pnt down by the great exponent of English humor for ten thou-sand, and the Journal of Commerce and Brigham Young respectively for a hundred pounds only, thus establishing a most invidious equality between the uitra Christian editor of that distinguished journal and the extravagantly Mohammedan leader of Mormonism. The editors of the Eveniug Post and the New York Times head the list with one thousand; the New York Tribute follows with 5500 Brooks of the Eventual Colours with 5500 Brooks of the Eventu bune follows with £500; Brooks, of the Express, also £500; and Ben Wood is intapress, also £500; and Ben Wood is infa-mously treated by receiving credit only for a hundred pounds' worth of Fenlan sym-pathy. Mr. Barnum, on the other hand, is generously credited with a thousand pounds. But the severest cut of all is in regard to the tragedian Edwin Forrest, who, notwithstanding that the Irish in New York have made themselves hoarse with applauding the classical Philadel-phiau's Gladiator and Jack Cade, is made by Mr. Punch to appear ungrateful enough by Mr. Punch to appear ungrateful enough to contine his contribution to the paltry sum of ten pounds. This is too bad. Mr. Punch should be punished for such injus-tice.—Chicago Republican.

THE SOUTHERN CONGRESSMEN.—The Richmond Republic, in closing an article upon the course to be pursued by Southern Congressmen elect at the opening of the ap-

Congressmen elect at the opening of the approaching session, says:

We believe that the Southern delegates wiil unanimously, after presenting their credentials, stand aloof from the debate, and leave the House, as constituted without them, absolutely free to deliberate and decide on their admission. Nay, more, we trust and believe, that they will not only scorn to enter the House by artifice and indirection, but that they will in no manner endeavor to iniluence the decision of Congress in their favor. Indeed, if the debate threatens to be protracted or excited we gress in their favor. Indeed, if the debate threatens to be protracted or excited, we hope to see them leave the Capitol altogether and await at their houses the summons of the officers of Congress. We trust the country will not be afflicted with the humiliating and indecent spectacle of Southern delegates hanging at the doors of Congress and lounging in the lobbles and hotels of the Capital, busy in button-holeing members and sollciting admission to their seats. It will suffice all the ends of decorum if they remain in the Capital long enough to ascertain the probable length of the debate on admission and to fully acquaint Congress with the facts of their case. After that, it will be their plain duty to leave the Capital, and to await at their respective homes the cail of the body. spective homes the cail of the body.

The Vicksburg Herald, which is edited by Effects of the Gaic.

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—The United States supply steamer Memphis arrived here this afternoon, having left New York on the 20th inst. She reports having experienced a very heavy Northeast gale and thick fogs and was obliged to hove to in five fathoms water for fourteen hours. While hove to she fell in with large quantities of drift matter, including several bales of cotton, supposed to be from some vessel which lost their deck load. The sea was running very high and it was impossible to pick up the cotton.

The Vicksburg Herald, which is edited by a former Aid of th rebel General Humphry who was lately elected Governor of Mississippi, uses this language regarding one point of of President Johuson's re-construction policy: "Shall Mississippi ratify the Constitutional Amendment? We answer no ten thousand times no! We have advocated earnestly (as a measure of policy.) the abolition of slavery, and it is now swept from our statue books forever; but never will we advocate—nor will Mississippi ever consent to give Cangress any more centrol within her borders than is now possessed by the National Legislature."

CRITICAL NOTICES OF THE PRESS. It is the foremost Magazine of the day. The fires'de never had a more delightful c maganion, for the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Saltimore.)
The most popular Monthly in the world.—New York The most popular Monthly in the world.—New York Observer.

We must refer in terms of enlogy to the high tone and veried excellences of Harper's Magazing—a jointh with a world excellence of Harper's Magazing—a jointh with a mouthly circulation of about 170,880 corise—in which a page are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as a uvidence of the American people; and the popularity it have acquired is merited. Auch number cutains fully 144 bages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood cuts; and it combines in itself the race mouthly and the more philosophical quartery. blendid with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Gnide to American Literature, London.

discharge, thin and acrid, afterward thick and adhesiv creased in quantity and changed in quality; they are now hick and heavy, and are hawked or coughed off. The sycretions are offensive, causing a had breath; the voice thick and mass!; the eyes are weak; the sense of smell lessened or destroyed; deafness frequently takes place. Another common and important symptom of Catarrhis that the person is obliged to clear his throat in the morning of e thick or slimy muceus, which has fallen from the head during the night. When this takes place the person may be sure that his disease is on its way to the lungs, and should less no time in arresting it.

The above are hat few of the many Catarrhel symptoms. Write for our pamphlet describing fully all symptoms; is will be sent FREE to any address. Call for SEELYES CATARRH REMEDY and take no

Dr. Eells' Writing Fluid. The ink manufactured by Dr. S. W. Eells at this place, is fast working itself into publie favor. Wherever it is tried, it is pronounced the best made in this country, and equal to Arnold's celebrated inks. Read the following certificate from the Fourth . Anditor of the Treasury Department, at Washington. The Dr. has shown us the original certificate, and we can vouch for its genuiueness.-Mansfield (O.) Herald.
